Enthusiasm!

The educators of NHS encourage the hearts and minds of the youth with whom they work. Theirs is a dedicated service! Creative teaching is encouraged as each teacher attempts to meet the needs of students. Each teacher realizes the importance of a classroom atmosphere in which his students will be highly motivated to work diligently.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

Superintendent—Mr. E.P. Pearce, Jr.

Administration

Mr. Pearce's sincerity, warm manner, and interest in people permeate his contacts with all working relations. Through the school board's sincere, genuine concern, and hard-working efforts to improve school and community relationships, their continuous support contributes much to the successfulness of our school.

School Board: Mr. James Marshall, Mr. Harold Stack, Mr. W. E. Cummings, Mr. Wayne McGee, Mrs. Isabell Whitaker.

Best wishes
R L Billings

Leads The Way

Our school is fortunate to have an individual with Mr. Billing's training, experience, and stature as head of its administration. He is assisted by Mr. H.L. Bennett. Mrs. Wilson, secretary, shows great patience and fortitude with a multitude of concerns for teachers, students, and school life in general.

Mr. R.L. Billings, Jr.

Language . . .

...the study of communication. Language teachers, Mrs. Virginia Snyder, Mrs. May Parker, Mrs. Ann Collette, Mrs. Maggie Richardson, Miss Elaine McNeill, Mrs. Joyce Tibbals, Mrs. Nettie Walker, Mr. Horace Bennett, and Mrs. Judy Taylor, strive to bring a working knowledge to their students. Through the study of cultures and traditions of foreign countries, as well as our own, an appreciation of the peoples of the world is acquired.

Science . . .

. . . the core of our Modern Age. In Northwest's laboratories an understanding of scientific principles is the underlying factor in every experiment. Biology is taught by Miss Helen Bostick. Miss Betty Walker teaches general science and Mr. Oakley Mabe teaches chemistry and physics.

Social Studies . . .

. . . the study of the world, past and present. Mrs. Sara Wolff, Mr. Stanley Godwin, Mr. Millard Coble, and Mr. Thomas Crayton impart an understanding of significant events through the study of world and United States History, civics, sociology, and geography. These classes radiate the past in such a manner as to prepare the students for the future.

Math . . .

. . . the mysterious world of equations and exponents. Miss Fulp and Miss Jackson bring to the members of their classes an understanding of the basic principles of algebra, geometry, and trigonometry. A mastery of the fundamental operations in mathematics prepares students for facing problems in everyday living.

Vocational . . .

. . . a bridge of preparation between the school years and a job. Home and school cooperation are essential in developing worth-while programs. Mr. Carl Nelson teaches carpentry, and Mr. Herman Jenkins instructs classes in bricklaying. Mr. Bob Hodgin teaches industrial arts, and Mr. Faber Bowman prepares students through distributive education.

Physical Education . . .

. . . learning to make and keep the body physically fit. Mr. Roger Nelson and Mr. Glenwood Wilson conduct classes for boys in health which give them a comprehension of the operations of the body; Miss Carol Broad does the same for girls. These teachers also lead their students in bodily exercises which will make them physically strong and keep them that way.

Business Education . . .

. . . a broad field of study. All students can fulfill many of their interests, needs, and career goals through business education. In the various courses taught by Miss Betty Everhart, Mr. Wayne Atkins, Mr. Ronnie Ball, and Mrs. Wanda Eller a student can develop the specialized skills and attitudes needed in a changing world of business.

Vocational . . .

. . .areas of study flexible to meet the changing social and economic conditions. Education in home economics is a must for any girl who plans to someday run an efficient household. Mrs. Helen Godwin and Mrs. Gloria Whitted teach classes in homemaking.

Training in fields of agriculture is essential for boys who look ahead to success in the changing society. This is provided in classes taught by Mr. Doug Williams, Mr. Ray Comer, and Mr. Grady Bowden.

Library . . .

. . .the key to knowledge. Mrs. Graham, librarian, with the help of student assistants, keeps our library in efficient order and the mass media up to date. The solitude of the library provides a place where students may come for research and to study.

Music . . .

. . . expression of the soul. Miss Wanda Bullington strives to bring to her choral students an appreciation for many enduring compositions. This appreciation adds an extra vibrancy to their performances. The excellent direction of the band members by Mrs. Evalyn Grant is evidenced in their outstanding capacity for stirring school spirit.

Guidance . . .

. . . advisory leadership. Mrs. Trivette works with all of Northwest's students, advising them in planning their academic careers. She not only supplies vocational guidance, but strives to help solve social problems which may be detrimental to a student's success. Each person is given aid in finding his place in society.

Mrs. Trivette advises Martin Decker in choosing his best course of study at Northwest.

Driver's Training . . .

. . . a step to safety on the highway. In classes taught by Mr. John Evans, students learn the rules of safety in driving, as well as the mechanics of operating an automobile correctly.

Health Services . . .

. . . available to any student. Mrs. Jane Moore, speech therapist, and Mrs. Nancy Thomas, county health nurse, visit NHS regularly to render their services to the students.

11:35 to 1:00 . . .

. . . chow time! Mrs. Almeta Green and her staff provide a pleasant dining atmosphere where convenience, sanitation, comfort, and attractiveness are emphasized. Mrs. Lola Pegram, Mrs. Mary Moseley, Mrs. Abelia Marshall, Mrs. Hilda Ward, Mrs. Ruth Jones, Mrs. Peggy Oakes, and Mrs. Virginia Bailey work each day to prepare tasty, nourishing meals for the student body and faculty.

Maintenance . . .

. . . care and supervision of facilities. Mrs. Martha Whitaker, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith, Mr. Dillard Cox, and Superintendent Mr. Wade Pegram, work continuously to keep our building neat and clean.

DE Club

Enthusiasm!

"Variety is the spice of life." Northwest certainly has a spicy life, for a wide variety of extracurricular activities may be found here. Clubs open for student membership are those with an eye to service, educationally related clubs, and honor societies. Students enthusiastically give their time and effort to support the organizational phase of school life.

ORGANIZATIONS

Democratic Training . . .

The student council is a forum for student expression—it encourages the ideas of democracy in the school. These democratic principles are best illustrated through the voting by secret ballot which elects the council officers. Equal representation for all is achieved through the election of a council representative by each homeroom.

VIKING Reviews Events of 1965-1966 . . .

The most eagerly awaited event of the year is the arrival of the yearbooks in the spring. Few students realize the amount of work involved in preparing the VIKING for publication. The hours of taking pictures, writing copy, and assembling the layout are well rewarded, however, by the pleasure and satisfaction the staff is able to give to the student body.

From News Day To Deadlines . . .

Each month the "Barque" brings to the student body news of past and coming events, pictures, news on entertainment, and humor. In addition to acquiring an understanding of the importance of the newspaper, the staff comes to understand the necessity of truth, impartiality, and responsibility.

. . . And The Band Played On—

One product of the school which any student can be proud of is the band. The intangible quality of emotion associated with parades and circuses is present whenever the band performs. In their resplendent uniforms, the members add spirit to every performance at football games or any other activities. Three pretty girls change the music into energy with their majorette routines. Because the purchase of its uniforms was a community project, the band has brought the school and community closer together.

October 2, 1965 . . .

Homecoming provides an opportunity for making new friends and meeting old acquaintances. The crowning of Vicki Morphis by Cheryl Rippy, the 1965 queen, symbolized the passing away of the old to make room for the new. Even though Gibsonville defeated Northwest, the evening was a memorable event.

December 21, 1965 . . .

The music and dramatics departments joined forces several times during the year to entertain the student body and P.T.A. The most memorable of these occasions are the Christmas programs including choral and band concerts and skits.

Shepherds and wise men worship the baby Jesus.

The chorus goes caroling for the P.T.A.

What's in the pack, Santa?

Who's the beautiful lady, Steve?

May 14, 1965 . . .

On May 14, 1965, the juniors and seniors enjoyed a make-believe cruise to the beautiful tropic beaches of Hawaii, where they danced in the moonlight to the pulsating music of the Ambassadors. Couples strolled beneath the palm trees or relaxed at tables provided for their enjoyment.

The Ambassadors' music made dancing a pleasure!

At intermission, refreshments fitting with the theme were served in the cafeteria.

Six Are Chosen . . .

Each spring, three boys and three girls are chosen from the junior class to serve as marshals at senior activities, especially at graduation exercises. The choices are made on the basis of grade averages for the first two and one-half years of high school work. These are outstanding students honored for outstanding achievement.

The marshals make a group of proud, smiling scholars.

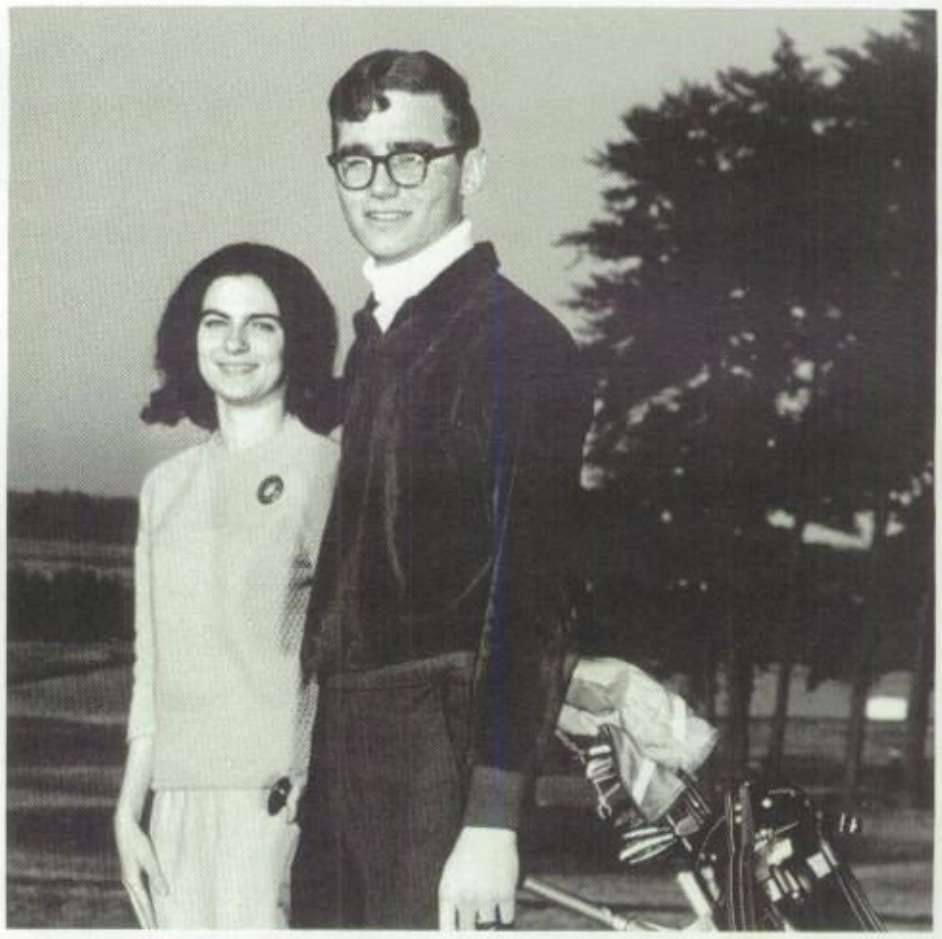
Who's Who!

The seniors on these two pages epitomize the ideal student. Miss DAR, chosen from the eleventh grade by her class and the faculty, is the Good Citizen of the school. That Northwest made a good choice is illustrated by the fact that Judy Mabe was chosen as Good Citizen from District V. Seniors who are chosen as superlatives are representative of the most desired personality traits. They are ideals in the eyes of classmates.

Judy Mabe, Miss DAR, represents good citizenship in the community.

Linda Pope and Larry Ford can be depended on by their classmates.



Jane Sharon and Robert Kota always have original ideas.

Joyce Stack and Ronnie Collins prove to be good all–around students.

It's easy to see why Carol Crutchfield and Bill Bowman are so intellectual.

Enthusiasm!

For anyone who has superfluous energy after the completion of his normal school day, release may be found in the participation in athletic activities. This is a most important phase of school life, for it instills an enthusiasm and drive to do one's best in the students. The pride essential to the growth and development of any institution is a direct outgrowth of sports events.

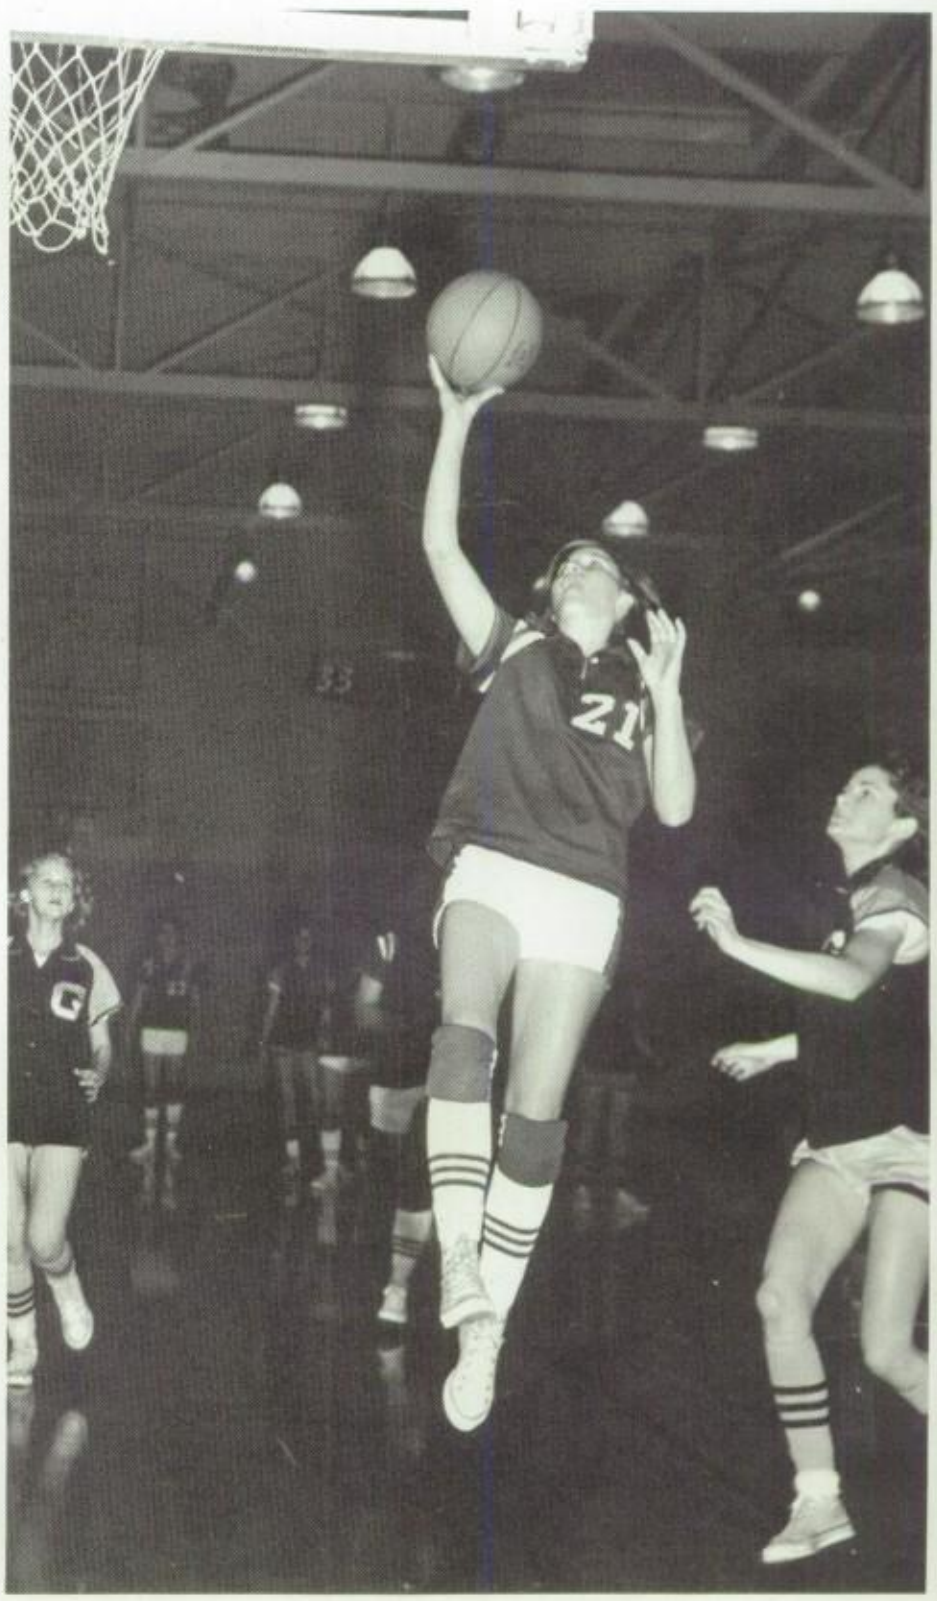
Success Is Not Always Winning .

The Northwest Vikettes practice long, diligent hours under the expert coaching of Coach Coble. Their hard work and determination keep them on the road to success. The managers keep up with equipment while the team keeps up the score.



Pat drives in for a layup.

Ann Dowdy

Becky Farrington

Enthusiasm!

Without the cooperation and support of our advertisers, the publication of the yearbook would be impossible. The businesses and firms of the Greensboro and Kernersville areas have graciously and patiently given of their time and money to show their concern for the students of our high schools. We extend our appreciation to them by patronizing their establishments.

EXAM GRADES

Spencer,

Knowing you these past years, sure has been a lot of [redacted] fun. I remember working in tobacco, going fishing, playing cards or just going off and having a good old time, we sure did have a lot of fun doing those things. Remember all the wonderful times we had playing football, basketball and baseball especially riding the bus there and back on away games. I won't never forget all those wonderful memories. Seems like both of us have got girl problems. I hope everything works out all right for the both of us. You are one of the nicest friends any one could ever hope to have, and I am glad you and I are good friends. You have a wonderful personality in which to win many friends with. Best wishes and good luck in your future years to come. always be sweet and kind to everyone you meet and you will succeed in life.

Sheldon (Fat Boy)

Enthusiasm

Everything must come to an end. We, the first graduating class to spend four years at Northwest, must finally realize the fact of graduation. We remember the activities in which we were engaged, the honors we received, the dread with which we faced exams. We remember the enthusiasm with which we supported our entire school program. Now, we must transfer this enthusiasm to our struggle for success in our future.

The editor speaks . . .

In September, when all the many things involved in publishing a yearbook were presented to us, a '66 VIKING seemed like a dream. As our efforts got under way, the dream was pushed aside, and the reality was pursued.

I feel that the theme best expresses the attitude of all of those who worked to make this yearbook possible. Carrying out the theme, "enthusiasm"—reason did go mad to achieve this definite rational objective.

Heartfelt thanks go to Miss Everhart, our advisor, who instructed us in every phase of our task. Without your concern and consideration, not only for the annual, but for us, we could never have obtained our objective. Thank you so much, Miss Everhart.

Special thanks go to...

our layout artist, Mr. Bob Chappell, who put much time and thought into the design of our book.

Mr. Boswell, our photographer... your patience is inconceivable.

Hunter Publishing Company for publishing our yearbook. It means a great deal to us!

Mr. Billings and faculty for your understanding and toleration during class interruptions.

To the entire student body for co-operating with the staff in making pictures.

We appreciate the participation of the Dave Clark Five in selecting "Miss Viking."

It has truly been a challenge to present a book that would not only stir pride and emotion in everyone, but contain cherished memories. We hope we have met this challenge with success!

I really don't know just what to say; But you are a wonderful person. Since I met you, my life has been complete. You have the type of personality that everyone enjoys, especially me. There is no other person to me that's as kind, friendly, generous, and understanding as you. I have had a lot of fun, and hope to have a lot more. the right kind. may you have happiness all the days of your life. I hope that anything you strive for, that you will be able to get it. I know that as the years pass you will gain more friends, fame, and so many other things that it would take to long to list them. may the Good Lord look over you and keep you safe all the days of your life and help you in any way. may the best of luck in the world come your way; because a swell boy like you deserves every bit of it.
